The Readability of Trade Examinations Jul 23 2020 A 1982 study assessed the comparative reading comprehension levels and writing ability performance of Trades Certification Board (TCB) apprentices in five trades in New Zealand. Test data were collected for 1,389 apprentices and a comparison group of 361 secondary school students. The cloze procedure format was adopted for assessing apprentices' ability to gain information from both general reading material and trade reading material. Overall, for all trades except hairdressing, the ability of apprentices to read extracts from their respective trade materials was lower than their ability to tackle general reading materials. The electrical, farming, and auto engineering course trade materials had significantly lower readability than meat retailing materials, which had significantly lower readability than hairdressing materials. Reading and writing abilities were moderately related. A readability analysis of the 1982 First Qualifying TCB examination papers used comparable samples of 149 apprentices selected from the 1983 intakes. The cloze format was again used. Auto engineering and meat retailing groups had trouble reading their examination papers independently. Examination papers appeared to be very similar in readability, but in practice this penalized some groups. The report includes 43 references and appendixes containing study materials, including information on the cloze procedure and sample cloze tests. (YLB)

ACCA Paper P6 Advanced Taxation FA2009 Study Text Nov 14 2019 The Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) is the global body for professional accountants. With over 100 years of providing world-class accounting and finance qualifications, the ACCA has significantly raised its international profile in recent years and now supports a BSc (Hons) in Applied Accounting and an MBA. BPP Learning Media is an ACCA Official Publisher. Paper P6, Advanced Taxation, requires you to extend the core tax knowledge that you learnt for Paper F6. As well as widening your knowledge of the core taxes, you will need to study inheritance tax, stamp taxes and trusts for the first time. In this paper you will also be expected to comment on ethical issues. In Paper P6 all of the questions set will be scenario type questions as opposed to the purely computational questions that you met at Paper F6. The emphasis of the questions will be on the interpretation of a given situation. You may need to propose alternative strategies and compare and contrast the results. Marks will be specifically awarded in the examination for the demonstration of effective communication skills. You will also need to demonstrate that you are aware that there may be non-tax matters that should be taken into account. Our P6 FA2009 study text has been approved by the examiner. It covers the entire syllabus at just the right level. There is a chapter towards the end of the text devoted to tax planning and ethics. This chapter helps you to bridge the gap between acquiring the knowledge that you must have at this level and starting to apply that knowledge to the type of questions that you will meet. The question and answer bank will also be vital in helping you develop your application skills. The questions are at a level designed to aid your transition towards the examination standard questions that you will find in BPP Learning Media's Practice and Revision kit. The pilot paper that was issued for Paper P6 is included at the back of the text so that you can see the standard and type of questions you will meet in the examination. BPP Learning Media is the publisher of choice for many ACCA students and tuition providers worldwide. Join them and plug into a world of expertise in ACCA exams.
