Or maybe you've taken the first step and have tried selling your art at a craft show or two, but now you're looking for ideas on how to sell more, how to make your booth more appealing to customers and where to find more venues to sell your handmade goods? You've come to the right place! I've been selling my own handmade creations, as well as the work of other artists, at a variety of craft shows and other events since 2004. I've learned a lot of lessons the hard way, and now I'm sharing them here with you so that you can learn from my experiences! and create additional events at which to sell your handmade work. WHAT IT INCLUDES: - how to define your target market - where to find good shows - how much should I spend on a booth fee at a show? - how to make your booth look great - promoting your show & getting your customers there - my craft show tips & tricks - dealing with crazy weather & unexpected events - theft prevention - craft show supply checklist - how to give great customer service - how to use craft shows to create after-the-show sales - alternative venues to sell your work, beyond traditional craft shows - how to create your own events to sell at - tracking your inventory - how to create a personal & business spending plan - big hunkin' list of craft show resources WHO THIS BOOK IS FOR: This book will be most useful for someone new to selling at craft shows. I do cover more advanced topics as well though, including how to define your target market, visual merchandising, inventory tracking, and creating a business spending plan. The book includes worksheets along the way to help you. The information in this book is based on my experiences, selling in the United States, mostly in Louisiana. However, most of the information contained here is useful to anyone around the world who is interested in setting up a booth at craft shows, festivals or conventions. WHY I KNOW WHAT I'M TALKING ABOUT: I did my first craft show in 2004. It was the Alternative Media Expo, put on by Antigravity Magazine here in New Orleans. I sold a few things, and learned a LOT of things. And I haven't looked back! I've done all sorts of events since then. I have sold regularly at the Frenchmen Art Market, and have done festivals around the New Orleans area including Bayou Boogaloo, Gretna Heritage Festival, Freret Market, New Orleans Earth

Day Festival, and many, many more. As one of the founding members of the New Orleans Craft Mafia, I've even organized a variety of events, both with the group and on my own. As a group, we've created a monthly art market and the annual Last Stop Shop holiday market. On my own, I've also hosted home shopping parties, trunk shows and pop-up shops. In 2007, as one of the winners of Etsy's Upcycling contest, I even traveled cross-country to San Francisco to participate in Bazaar Bizarre at Maker Faire!

This book gives you marketing ideas for each of the major platforms so you can decide which is right for you now. It also shows you how to scale up your sales by selling on multiple platforms when you are ready. As a seller of handmade items, you aren't limited to Etsy, Amazon Handmade, or having your own website, though each of these could provide a substantial business by themselves. If you can manage a larger business, you can simultaneously run shops on Facebook, Instagram, Pinterest, and other social platforms where shoppers can see your product posts and order directly without leaving the site they are on. Having multiple stores can feel overwhelming. Here you will discover tools and apps that help you grow and manage your presence on many sites through a single interface. There are many ideas outlined in these pages. But they aren't here to encourage you to jump on all of them right away. In fact, unless you have already mastered an online marketplace like selling on Etsy first, then aiming for more markets is asking for overwhelm, confusion, and stress. Read the book through in the order it's written. Make notes of which markets and tools appeal to you. Modify Chapter 5's suggested marketing plan to fit your situation and needs. Taking random marketing actions here and there will eventually bring in occasional income. But working from a plan brings measurable and sustainable profits in the shortest time. If you want a business that generates money predictably over time, organize your actions around a master plan. Your plan is your guide, but it's not set in stone, especially with ecommerce, which transforms rapidly. To grow a successful business, adopt an adaptive mindset. Regularly review your progress and edit your plan according to the results of actions you have taken and current circumstances.
